CITY INTELLIGENCE.

HOW A GEORGIAN WAS VICTIMIZED,-Mr. Joseph Shaw hails from Stewart county, Georgia, and has been making a tour through the States for the benefit of his health. Thinking that Philadelphia would be a fine place to while away a few days during the sessions of the Convention, he came here and took rooms at a first-class hotel. A fine looking, well-dressed, and good-mannered personage made the acquaintance of Mr. Shaw, representing himself as a resident of Columbia, South Carolina. He spoke of the loss of his slaves by the Rebellion, the terrible sufferings he and his iriends had endured, and won the confidence of the Georgian in an effectual manner.

Yesterday the twain took a promenade, when a clerkly-looking man approached them and addressed the South Carolinian with, "Ah, good morning; I have made out your account according to orders, and here it is;" presenting what was apparently a regularly-made-out bill. The South Carolinian took from his pocket a check, and commenced expressing his regrets that it was very inconvenient to go to bank. Turning to the Georgian, he asked if he could accommodate him until he could find it conve nient to reach the bank. Mr. Shaw drew forth $900 in bank bills, which the South Carolinian took and handed to the clerk, giving Mr. Shaw in lieu thereof a check. The clerk expressed his profound thanks, and, bidding the gentlemen good morning, took his departure,

Mr. Shaw and his friend continued their promenade a short distance, when the latter said he would step into a store just for a moment. He did so, and Mr. Shaw waited a considerable time, then entered the store, but no one could tell what had become of the South Carolinian. Being directed to the detective office, he reached there in a high state of excitement, to be told that his check was worthless, and that he was the victim of a confidence man. He left a description of the sharper, but that will probably avail little, as a pile of $900 in greenbacks is a sufficient stake to warrant his taking himself off to a more genial clime.

LIGHT-FINGERED GENTRY .- Three men. who gave the names of Thomas Conningham, John Johnson, and William Myers, were heard on a charge of being professional thieves. Officer Smith testified that he and Mr. Taggart arrested the defendants on Girard avenue; they had been on one of the cars, and got off, and their movements were considered suspictors Alderman-What do you know of the men? Witness-I've seen the little man (Johnson) with professional thieves. Don't know much

Officer Taggert testified to the rest; did not know the men as professionals. Cumningham and Myers were held in $1000 bail each for their future good behavior, and Johnson was committed for ninety days as a professional thief. Witham Vandebilt was brought up by Officer

Solomon Reis testified that he rode on one of the Eighth street cars to Girard avenue, and when he was about to get off at the avenue de-fendant pressed up against him, and another man did the same. As soon as he got off the cars he discovered that his pocket-book had been stolen. Detendant and another got off the car and attempted to escape; one of them was successful. Vandebilt was held in $1500 bail to answer at the present term of the Court.

JOHNSON AND CLYMER MEETING AT NATIONAL GUARDS' HALL.—A large meeting was held last evening at the National Guards' Hall. There was a tine band in attendance. The tirst speaker was General Heath, of Nebraska. He congratulated the audience on the interest manitested by our city for the cause of the Union, and referred to the grand Convention in culogistic terms. He mentioned that Andrew John-son was striving to unload the Constitution, and deprecated the action of Congress in not allowing the Southern members of Congress to be admitted. He said the South had submitted in good faith to their deteat, and after referring to the negro question, concluded by prognosticating another war unless the amalgamation of a black and white Government was done away with. Governor Parsons, of Alabama, was the next speaker. He commenced by alluding to the fact that it was six years since he had addressed an audience in this city. He accused England of having made a cat's paw of the South, and said he hoped the cruel record of the past had been buried. He congratulated this city for having allowed the peaceful assemblage of the Union Convention, and concluded by hoping that its labors for the better cementation of the States would be lasting. Other addresses were made, and the Convention adjourned at a late hour.

AN OLD OFFENDER.-John Filly was brought up by Detective Henderson, who testined that he had arrested him on a bench warrant from the Court. Found him on Girard avenue, but not in a crowd. Chief Franklin said that Filly was wanted on two or three charges, on which there are bills of indictment. This defendant was bound over several months ago on the charge of being concerned in robbing the clock store of Mr. Smith, South Second street, in company with a man named Howard. He was bound over at the Central Station, re-leased on professional bail, and subsequently arrested on the charge of assaulting with a billy a railroad conductor on one of the cars, who had interfered to prevent his picking a pocket. That charge was also heard at the Central Sta-tion a couple of months ago. Filly was soon released on pail, and has been a fugitive from justice since. His boldness in returning to the city with several serious charges hanging over him, would seem to indicate that he old not fear to encounter the man who had become security in several thousand dollars for his appearance at Court. The bench warrant on which he was arrested was given to Officer Henderson by Ch.ef Franklin.

CONVENTION OF SOLDIERS AND SAILORS. -After the adjournment of the National Union Convention, yesterday afternoon, a meeting of soldlers and sailors was announced to take place at the Wigwam, in the evening. At that time the army officers in charge of the movement iailed to consider that the building was not supplied with gas. During the afternoon this subject was thought of, and a meeting of the army officers was called in Parlor C. Continental Hotel, at which it was decided not to hold the meeting in the evening, but to postpone the meeting in the evening, but to postpone the same until five o'clock this afternoon, to be held in Washington city. At this authoring a temporary organization is to be effected, and an executive committee appointed to issue a call for a Convention of soldiers and sailors from iorth, South, East, and West, to be held in some Northern city at no distant day Major-General G. A. Custer, Major-General Slocum, General Rousseau, Major-General McCook, General Averill. Major-General Stoodman, and a host of Other distinguished army officers are at the head of the movement.

was neard at the Central Station yesterday:—
Thomas Ryan, a young man, was charged with an attempt to steal a box of shoes from in front of No. 623 Market street.

D. J. Hoar to titled that he saw defendant in the act of titling one of the boxes on the pave ment in front of the store, and asked him what he was going to do with it to which he replied that he had been directed by a man to clear the pavement. Upon thing maked who the man was, he said a police officer. He was then taken may received. In analysis to questions by the inidention. In answer to questions to the miles from Hamilton, Ohi a and he repeated the story of a policement absume him to remove be bases from the pavement. He was commit-ted in default of $2000 ball to answer.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPP ARANGE. - A young girl named Mary F. Kahn, who has been em-ployed as a domestic in a house in Wallace street has not been heard of since the 7th inst., at which time she started to go on an excursion to Strawberry Mansion. The parties with whom she was to go state that she did not leave with them. Officer Casper Cooper, at the Mayor's office, will be clad to receive any information in reference to her.

A DIFFICULTY.-While John Strong was standing on the steps in the rear of the Conti-nental a party of men passed by quarreling among themselves. As they were passing, Strong remarked that he considered it a duhonor to be a "Jounson man." It is alleged that one William Smith dealt him a blow, knocking him down, and in the fall Mr. Strong struck his head on the steps of the hotel, in-flicting a fearful wound. The injured man was immediately placed upon a stretcher and conveyed to the Pennsylvania Hospital, where his wound was properly dressed. The doctor in attendance was unable to state whether his skull was finctured, as his condition would not admit of a thorough examination at that time. Three other parties, said to have been in company with Smith, were taken into custody, and were locked up to await a hearing.

ANOTHER HOMICIDE.-Last night, about quarter past eleven o'clock, a man named Francis McCleary was shot in the head while standing at Nineteenth and Callowbill streets, It appears that there was a disturbance at the time between the Good-Will Hose and Spring Garden Engine Company, and that during the affair the shot was fired by some unknown per-The wounded man was taken to the Pennsylvania Hospital, where an examination of his injuries was made, and it was found that his skull had been fractured by the entry of the bail. His case is considered hopeless.

IN BAD COMPANY. - Detective Brown brought up a prisener, whom he arrested on one of the Girard avenue cars as a pickpocket. De-lendant gave the name of Charles Watkins. The detectives were asked if they knew him as a professional. All answered negatively but Officer Henderson, who said that he knew him by the name of Sweeney. The officer then testified that he had seen Sweeney with professional thieves, but did not know anything of him personally. Sweeney was committed under the ninety-day
